

CASE STUDY: CASADEI

To design & install fire, security, CCTV & audio systems

Italian shoe designer Casadei chose Mayfair London, to make its UK debut. Located amongst the likes of Paul Smith and Alexander Wang, the flagship store has been executed to the highest of standards.

GBIS's delivery of the fire, security, CCTV and audio systems had to be seamless, and perform to the highest standards. The team did not disappoint and the systems were installed without a hitch and to the exacting standards that one would only expect in a high end, luxurious boutique.

GBIS Director, Scott Earing comments 'It fills us with great pride to be able to put our name against such world-class luxury brands and it just goes to show that hard work and attention to detail doesn't go unnoticed by contractors and they feel confident in our ability, especially when they come back time and time again.'
